XXV APPLIED ECONOMICS MEETING

UNIVERSIDAD DE CASTILLA-LA MANCHA
Faculty of Juridical and Social Sciences, Toledo
JUNE 1-2, 2023

Dear colleague:

The XXV edition of Applied Economics Meeting will be held at the Universidad de Castilla-La Mancha-Campus Toledo on June 1-2, 2023. The program will consist of contributed and invited paper sessions. We accept contributions from a broad spectrum of applied economics and econometrics topics.

All the relevant information regarding the Scientific Committee, conference program, venue, registration, accommodation, social events and technical conference support will be made available on the conference website.

Prospective contributors are invited to submit electronically the final version of their papers before February 28th, 2023 by using the Conference Maker.

The scientific committee will select the papers for the conference.

Call for Papers for Applied Economic Analysis Special Issue 2023 for the 25th Anniversary of the Applied Economic Meeting. Authors of selected high-quality papers from the Applied Economic Meeting will be invited to submit their papers for possible publication in a special issue of Applied Economic Analysis scheduled for 2023. This is an Open Access journal with no publication fee and an impact factor of 1.042 (JCR, 2021). Moreover, the journal Scopus Citescore is tracking at 2.4 in 2022 (updated monthly). Authors should submit their paper via the journal's website. Regular journal standards apply. The deadline for submitting papers is March 1st, 2023.

The Meeting is open to the participation of the international scientific community, so the official languages will be Spanish and English.

We are also very pleased to announce that there will be a new edition of the Young researchers ALdE Prize awarded at the Applied Economics Meeting. This prize is funded by ALdE and amounts to 1,000 euros for the best paper, as well as a Special mention of 500 euros. The authors must state their willingness to participate provided they fulfill the conditions, which are available on the website. Young researchers are also encouraged to apply for ALdE 2023 Travel Grants. Please visit the webpage for further information on the conditions.
